Opposition Scouting Report

Note the other team's shape, threats and weaknesses.

A quick scouting report helps you prepare a game plan and brief your players. Watch the opposition (or recall your last meeting) and note their shape, dangers and weaknesses, then turn it into a simple plan your team can carry out.

Opponent: _____

Date watched: _____

Their usual formation: _____

Their strengths / danger players

Their weaknesses / where to hurt them

Our plan (in and out of possession)

Keep the player message simple

You might note ten things - but tell the players two or three. For example: 'their number 8 is dangerous, so screen him' and 'their full-backs push on, so the space is in behind them'.
